2025 Certifying Plumbing (9195) Refresher Course (2): Dates and Venue

Titirangi Trades Education (TTE) offers a refresher course to prepare you for the PG&D Board's Certifying Plumbing Exam (9195). This exam is now partly computer-based and partly paper-based. We understand that the digital component of the exam will be like the computer-based Tradesman-exam format, but that the design component will still be paper-based.

We have scheduled our refresher courses for dates as below. We suggest you book your exam date at the start of the course and that your exam date should be the Saturday after the course finishes on the Friday.

As part of our teaching practicum, we encourage our students to bring their computers to the course to help with the learning required to pass the exam.

We also use the hard copies of the codes and standards, and you will need all of them for the course. (Please see the student study file for these codes and standards).

When booking your exam, you will need to fill in a form requesting the hard copies of the codes and standards you require. You can ask for an extra ½ hour to be added to your exam time if you feel that you need the extra time doing your exam.

When booking your exam, you will need to fill in a form requesting the hard copies of the codes and standards and you need to allow ten working days, minimum for the board and Aspeq to organise the codes and standards for your 9195 exam.
